Intro

Arms control means international disarmament or arms limitation, especially by mutual consent. The numbers, people, places may change, but one thing that remain the same is that their using guns to kill innocent people.

Current Findings

- 2017 was the deadliest year of mass shootings in modern U.S. history.
- According to a nonprofit organization that repeatedly tracks gun violence, there have been 345 mass shootings in America in 2017 alone.
- In fact the two most deadliest shootings happened with 35 days of each other.

What I Found Interesting About My Topic

Future Plans

My plans towards the future is to keep studying criminal justice. My dream is to become a united states marshall. I feel like being part of the federal government is my achievement. I would be able to stop crime and be a professional agent.

Comments

- Mother: “Mass shootings will never end in our country due to all the selfishness that surrounds us”.
- Brother: “This is a very sensitive topic because nowadays you can't feel safe in your own school and its supposed to be a safe free zone. I haven't seen one of those signs in years and that lets us know that having guns around is a problem”.
- Grandfather: “What's crazy about all these shootings is that, The shooter is always found with a mental disability. That's why our country is so messed up because anyone can act like a lunatic.

What did I learn about my research

- 2017 was the deadliest year for mass shootings.
- NRA is being funded by non profit organizations and its causing the NRA's number to increase every year.
- First mass shooting in United States history happened in 1943, "Walk Of Death".

Conclusion

In conclusion, The United states Has to come to an agreement to end all types of gun violence. Mass shootings and gun violence in our communities need to come to an end as well. I feel like our government should do everything in its power to find a solution. I honestly fear that something bigger will happen if people don't pay mind to this issue.
